Astronomy video brings real-time telescope images to a theater audience of 300 people ...and to the internet

★ High-sensitivity video camera is attached to observatory telescope in silo dome

★ Telescope images sent to computer, and then to digital projector in theater and/or to the internet

★ Presenter in theater operates telescope remotely, creating a unique educational experience for the audience

★ Direct eyepiece views through telescopes are available for smaller groups

★ Observatory is also a resource for student research